

The Consell de Formentera primary sector department reports that beginning Monday 14 October, islanders can register their young ones to participate in the children's vegetable patch course. The classes are geared toward ages 4 to 12 and will be held Saturday mornings, from 26 October to 20 June. Signups will happen at the Citizen's Information Office (OAC) and the office's virtual platform (OVAC).

As primary sector councillor Josep Marí pointed out, the course, led by specialist Lorna Hernández, has two objectives at its core: "to foment earth-smart and traditional methods of working the land, and develop respect for classmates and the natural world".

Workshops will play out at the children's vegetable patch, or Hort Infantil, located near Sa Tanca Vella chapel in Sant Francesc. Two groups will be formed: one for kids aged 4 to 7 that meets Saturdays from 10.00am to 11.45am, and another for children aged 8 to 12 from 12.15pm to 2.00pm. The classes are free.
