

The Office of Culture of the Consell de Formentera is pleased to report that, backed by Barnasants, singer-songwriter Paco Ibáñez will kick off the winter-spring 2023 programme of L'Illa a Escena when he presents his concert '¡Nos queda la palabra!'. The concert is part of the new international tour with which Ibáñez has toured major European and Latin American cities. The show will take place in the Sala de Cultura (Cinema) from 8.30pm, Saturday 4 February.

Icon of the struggle for truth and freedom, internationalist and ambassador of the verse, Ibáñez delivers a concert that embodies love and dignity, advocating humanism in the face of 21st-century barbarism. Dressed in black, guitar in hand and orbited by excellent musicians on a stage that is at once bare-bones and beautiful, Ibáñez gives us songs of love, pure existentialism, struggle and resistance. Paired with the musical rhythms and the force of poetry, the show is raw and mournful, but also full of love and hope.

The protagonists are both Paco Ibáñez and those who listen to his songs and feel solidarity in the struggle for personal and collective dignity. Ibáñez's voice opens a mysterious and secret door, the silent and dazzling entrance to poetry... the door to freedom! Audiences will see Ibáñez bring to life the elegant melodies of his latest album alongside tracks from the artist's most iconic releases.

Prices and tickets

Tickets are available now at www.entradesformentera.cat for €7. Unemployed people, under-employed freelancers, retirees, under-25s, single-parent families and large families pay half price. Tickets are also available at the box office half an hour before show time.

In this video Paco Ibáñez interprets Antonio Machado's "Tus ojos me recuerdan".

27 January 2023
Communications Office
Consell de Formentera

